

East Coast Chronicles

Dear Friends and Supporters,

As we gather around our tables this Thanksgiving, take a moment to reflect on the many blessings we have received, both big and small. I am grateful for the love and support that flows from our community, as well as the opportunity to serve and share the message of hope with those in need. This season, remember the faces and stories of those we are all called to help. May our hearts be filled with compassion as we strive to spread kindness and generosity in all we do. I pray for strength and encouragement for those I serve and for fellow missionaries working tirelessly to make a difference. Join me in giving thanks for the abundance of blessings in our lives and for the chance to be instruments of peace and love. May our gratitude inspire us to continue God's mission and lift up those who are less fortunate.

Wishing you a warm and blessed Thanksgiving filled with joy and togetherness.
