

Hello Friends and Supporters!

As I look back on this joy-filled year, I am truly astonished by the countless blessings I have received! During this festive season, I've had the opportunity to connect with numerous pastors and churches at the Christmas sectional gatherings. My heart is filled with gratitude for the individuals and churches that continue to support me. November and December have been especially meaningful, as four more churches have joined my financial team. I am genuinely thankful!

I have two upcoming conferences with a total cost of $2,182.00, which covers flights, hotels, and conference fees. If you feel led to contribute, you can do so by scanning the QR code or link provided below.

Stay tuned to see where the Lord will guide me next in this season of joy and goodwill!

Congratulations to Sean Durst*, our newest approved facilitator!

Don't forget to check out my updated website: www.readynowrecoveryeastcoast.com. There are some resources available that can help you support those in addiction recovery.

Break the chains. Be the Change.

Every day, someone awakens desperate for an escape from addiction—and Ready Now Recovery is here to offer a path to freedom, healing, and hope. Through Christ-centered recovery groups, practical support, and a robust community of accountability and grace, lives are being transformed. We currently have four facilitators in training in NJ and ME. Would you consider getting trained to bring hope and joy to those in need?

Wishing you all a blessed holiday season brimming with love, joy, and Christmas cheer! May your days be merry and bright, and may Jesus bring you peace and happiness!

Essential for this Mission!
Funding is crucial to sustain God's work. Districts and churches will catch the vision, leading to new opportunities. God to touch the hearts of those who can be facilitators. Traveling mercies as I journey up and down the East Coast.
